

South of the James
 nbc12.com
 Do You Have a Great Photo of This Area?
 email: community@nbc12.com

--	--	--	--

National Trails Day gives Buttermilk, Forest Hill a boost | Public Spaces

Title (Max 100 Characters)

National Trails Day gives Buttermilk, Forest Hill a boost

Submitted by
Monday, June 6th, 2011, 10:35am

Tweet \(http://twitter.com/share\)
Print \(#\) E-mail \(#\)

Topics: Public Spaces \(/news/public-spaces\)

If you agree with these statements, "I like being part of the solution" and "make a difference for the environment," then you'll appreciate what about 30 volunteers did on Saturday for National Trails Day on the Buttermilk Trail and in Forest Hill Park.

Volunteers from Richmond-MORE \(http://www.richmond-more.org/\) and REI Sports joined several staffers from the James River Park to make improvements to sections of trail on the Buttermilk Trail in the James River Park, including staining a few of the wooden bridges.

REI supplied volunteers with t-shirts with those statements for participating. It was great to see an army of volunteers marching through the parks.

In Forest Hill Park, volunteers, including a few children, stained the year-old curved wooden bridge installed by volunteers from Richmond-MORE.

Read more in the James River News Hub \(http://jrnh.net\)

Topics: Public Spaces \(/news/public-spaces\)

\(#\) \(#\) \(#\) \(#\)

Top South of the James Stories

News	News	News	News
----------------------	----------------------	----------------------	----------------------